

MCPEAK NAMED PRESIDENT OF CLEARSTREAM

EDMONTON, Alberta, August 29, 2014—ClearStream today announced the appointment of Grant McPeak as President, ClearStream Energy Services (CSES) and Chief Operating Officer (COO) of ClearStream Energy Holdings. Prior to this announcement McPeak served as Chief Operating Officer of ClearStream. The position will report to Paul Hatcher, Chief Executive Officer (CEO), ClearStream Energy Holdings.

“The structural change will allow Grant McPeak in his new role as President, CSES and Chief Operating Officer of ClearStream Energy Holdings, to focus on making improvements to the ClearStream business, particularly the development of the Energy Services divisions in Wood Buffalo Region as well as North East British Columbia,” said Paul Hatcher, CEO of ClearStream Energy Holdings. “Grant will also continue to work with ClearStream’s Contracting, Transportation and Wear divisions to maximize potential for growth.”

The change comes into effect Tuesday, September 2, 2014.

ClearStream is an integrated company in the energy services industry. For more than 40 years, ClearStream has operated across four business divisions: Industrial Services, Fabrication, Wear Technology and Transportation. Every day we build, transport, and provide services that keep the energy and resource sectors moving forward. ClearStream operates in over 25 facilities and sites throughout Alberta and Northeast BC.
